Power of Parents, It's Your Influence

What:

Free facilitator training in Power of Parents, It's Your Influence, a parent initiative developed by Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD)

Why:

Learn how to make 30-minute presentations about underage drinking prevention to parents

When:

Friday, February 17, 2012, 12:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

Where:

Garfield Teen Life Center, 428 23rd Avenue, Seattle WA 98122

The presenter is Jackie Berganio, Program Manager/Community Coordinator, King County Mental Health, Chemical Abuse and Dependency Services Division's Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention Program.

Participants in the facilitator training will receive Power of Parents materials, including a manual and the PowerPoint presentation. After becoming a certified trainer, facilitators can then use those materials to make presentations to parent groups such as PTAs.

If interested, please register by completing the form below, save it then submit it by Wednesday, February 8, 2012 to Jackie Berganio by email at jackie.berganio@kingcounty.gov or by fax at (206) 296-0583. A confirmation will be sent to inform you whether your registration has been accepted.
